Digital learning summer trainee

We are looking for a Digital learning summer trainee to work in the HI-FOG® Learning Compass Team at Marioff Corporation Oy. We are currently taking a new learning platform (LMS) into use and some branding and customization to the UI is needed, as well as testing and user management/admin work. The length of the position is approx. 3 months between May-Sep. The position is located at Marioff Corporation headquarters in Plaza Business Park HALO, Vantaa.

Job responsibilities:

- Design and improve user interfacing for our learning platform
- Taking care of our assets and doing some user management/platform cleanup and admin work
- Maintain and streamline assets to a clean format, organize and update documentation
- The position may suit well an engineering student who is interested in producing technical training materials, or a student studying media/communications/pedagogy/design with a technical mindset.

To succeed in this position you should:

- have an understanding of traditional and contemporary design standards (typography, layouting, UX/UI, color theory, and brand communication)
- have skills in UI development technologies such as HTML, CSS (JavaScript is a plus)
- be fluent in English
- be interested in online learning and learning technologies
- have interest in technical support – testing of e-learning course navigation

We also value:

- Web design related graphic skills using Adobe products (Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop)
